Expectations for the sector and the company's role in these expectations	Unprecedented rainfall in UAE in April 2024 caused major floods heavily impacted the insurance industry. The floods are reported to have caused major claims spikes in the motor, property, business interruption and travel sectors of the insurance market. The majority of the impact is transferred to reinsurance market which has caused the hardening of the reinsurance cost and changing the terms which we expect is going to continue during 01/01/25 and 01/07/25 renewal cycles based on inevitable element of payback expectations It is also noted that while the financial and solvency positions of the larger UAE insurers including ADNIC are generally resilient with respect to the damage of floods in April 2024, we expect that significant number of listed insurers in UAE have solvency levels which are close to the regulatory minimum, which might cause critical issues in the near future and some market consolidation. ADNIC has proven its resilience to the major events and adequacy of the reinsurance protection for major events In the property market, risks affected by flood losses have been the subject of significant rate increases in some cases. It is difficult to estimate the overall average increase in property rates as a result of the

	April 2024 floods for the industry but it would appear to be in the region of 10% to 15% in average.
Expectations regarding the economy and its impact on the company and the sector	Growth prospects in the medium-term outlook remain positive due to rising oil prices Government policy will remain centered on diversifying the economy away from a dependence on energy rents, aiming to build on Abu Dhabi and Dubai's success in emerging as regional hubs for finance, construction, retail and tourism. To support diversification efforts, development of the energy sector will continue in the medium-term. Investment in the natural gas sector in particular is expected to increase in the years ahead to unlock the country's production potential The UAE's National Energy Strategy 2050 aims for 50% of electricity generation to be sourced from renewables including nuclear power, up from less than 20% in 2021, with 38% generated by natural gas and 12% by coal ADNIC will continue to support the economy development by providing the insurance support in all the areas of growth
Future plans for growth and changes in operations in future periods	ADNIC continues to maintain and invest towards a sophisticated Enterprise Risk Management framework and market leading comprehensive Reinsurance Risk Transfer programs. We are also moving ahead with establishing a dedicated Artificial Intelligence specific data management unit to ensure continues delivery of optimal risk reward financial returns. Continued focus on operational efficiencies particularly in high customer impact areas Maintain the focus on sustainability as a key operational pillar
